Counties Not To Receive Gas Tax Money For June

According to analysis of the Byrd road plan recently enacted by the legislature counties will not receive payment for the June gasoline tax. The bill calls for the state to return all such funds after July 1, and the gasoline tax is never paid until around the tenth of the month following collection. This revelation will especially affect Buckingham county, whose supervisors had voted to use the $1,600 expected from this source to keep the schools open for a full term.
